

JAMES SPENCER

James is passionate encouraging the Church to test God by trusting God. He currently serves as President of Useful to God Ministries (usefultogod.com) and the D. L. Moody Center (moodycenter.org). James previously spent eleven years in higher education leadership and continues to consult with Christian colleges and seminaries.

He earned his PhD in Theological Studies from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School. He has published multiple books including Serpents and Doves: Christians, Politics, and the Art of Bearing Witness and Christian Resistance: Learning to Defy the World and Follow Christ. James also contributed to the Moody Bible Commentary and the Moody Handbook of Messianic Prophecy.

James is host of Thinking Christian, a podcast hosted on Salem's Life Audio network. He is a regular contributor to Christianity.com and the Washington Times. His work has also been featured in the Wall Street Journal, Townhall.com, American Thinker, and Fox News. He has also appeared on numerous podcasts and broadcasts including Fox's Lighthouse Faith with Lauren Green, The Eric Metaxas Show, and Relatable with Allie Beth Stuckey.
